against this members of the old line parties have pointed out that never were more parties represented. The C.C.F. has been described as an experimental party and because of the dictation of the Council of Twelve to whom candidates are responsible, it has been criticized as autocratic, with less freedom for members than in any other party. Commencing on this point one British Columbia editor remarks: "While the old party machines are being criticized the foundation for the new C.C.F. party machine is much more complete than anything hitherto dreamt of by the old parties."

Experienced men standing on a definite platform—behind an acknowledged leader to create work and wages and face problems of the day with clear cut policies, have been arguments advanced by the Liberal party.

The C.C.F. claiming old systems have failed has been challenged as being without policies other than federal policies, and those it has been inquired are theories advanced by men inexperienced in public affairs.

Broadly the independents have come under the classification of various Conservative factions unable to pull together and seeking election under the guise of non-party men.

Entry of over 200 candidates in the race has caused the deposit which candidates used to make, to become the subject of discussion. In 1927 candidates were required to make a deposit of $200. In 1930 this was reduced to $100 and in 1932 it was cancelled by the Liberal Government. The deposit was returned if the candidate got as many as one-half of the votes polled by the elected candidate.

News of the first candidates actually nominated comes from Prince Rupert where T. D. Pattison, who will be the next Premier of British Columbia if he is generally forecast his party is returned. Charles Chapman, United Front, and G. W. Rutherford, C.C.F., have filed their nomination papers.

W. J. Bowser, former Premier of British Columbia, and Walter J. Scrimshaw, labor union official, were nominated by the Independent Non-Partisan Group in Vancouver Centre, yesterday. Mr. Bowser will also be a candidate in Victoria. Mr. Bowser was placed in nomination by Prof. Edward Odium.

Several in the Vancouver Non-Partisan convention showed a disposition to nominate Col. G. Peck, V.C., whose name has been freely mentioned as a possible candidate, but no assurance could be given that he would accept.

Join the "Y" Week

During the next few days 60 Victoria men are giving their valuable time and interest to soliciting memberships for the Y.M.C.A. They do this for three main reasons:

- 1—Because they believe that every boy, young man and older man needs the "Y" physically. The Y.M.C.A. specializes in recreational and remedial physical culture, and offers excellent facilities and equipment, plus the services of a trained instructor at undervalued low rates.
- 2—Because they believe that the "Y" can supply opportunities along the line of educational, cultural, esthetic and devotional groups, clubs, and activities that will help youth and age alike to develop their greatest asset—personality—in a Christian character-building atmosphere.
- 3—Because they believe that where a man has a genuine altruistic community interest, and he cannot use the privilege himself, he will be glad to support the good work by taking out a membership and passing on to some delighted recipient the actual use of the card. If you do not know such a boy or young man, one can easily be found.

P.E.I. PREMIER PASSES AWAY

Hon. J. D. Stewart Succumbs After Illness of Several Months

Charlottetown, Oct. 11.—Arrangements were being made today for the funeral of the late Hon. James David Stewart, P.E.I. Premier, who died at his home here yesterday evening in his sixtieth year.

Mr. Stewart was the first Premier of Prince Edward Island to return to the island after a party defeat. His first government, formed in 1923, was ousted in the general election of 1927. When another battle loomed in 1931 he still was leading the Conservatives, and after the vote was counted on election day, August 6, he again became Premier of the province. He took the portfolio of Attorney-General.

FORCED OUT OF WORK
He was forced to give up active work about a year and a half after his Conservative forces had succeeded the Liberal government of Hon. W. L. Lee, and Hon. W. J. F. MacMillan, M.D., Minister of Education and Public Health, was appointed Acting Premier.

Premier Stewart began his political career in 1917, when he won a by-election caused by the appointment of Hon. John A. Matheson as chief justice of the island province. Re-elected in the general election of 1919, he was considered one of the stalwarts among the Conservatives, and in 1921 he was chosen leader of the provincial party.

He was born at Lower Montague, Prince Edward Island, January 15, 1874. Son of David Stewart and his wife, the former Lydia Ayres Stewart. He attended the public school at Lower Montague and studied later at Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown, graduating in 1900. He was a partner in the firm of Matheson, MacDonald and Stewart. He was appointed a King's Counsel in 1917.

COPPER QUOTED AT EIGHT CENTS

Associated Press
New York, Oct. 11.—Domestic copper was available at eight cents a pound today, a decline of half a cent since yesterday.

One custom smelter quoted at 8 1/2 cents this morning and later the level was lowered another quarter cent as consumers gave no indication of what they would enter the market which is said to be suffering from large tonnage of scrap.

INCREASE DIVIDEND

New York, Oct. 11 (Associated Press).—Directors of Continental Can Company have increased the annual dividend rate on the common shares to $2.50 from $2.00 by ordering a quarterly disbursement of 6 1/4 cents a share, against 50 previously.

LONDON WELCOMES NEWS

London, Oct. 11.—Breaking of the England-to-Australia flight record by Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith was such an important news in London today it dwarfed such matters as war debts and disarmament.

News of the Australian success was wired to Sandringham for information of the King, who had taken a keen interest in the flight.

Discussing Sir Charles' performance, C. W. A. Scott, whose record was broken, said:

"Smithy is a wizard. I felt sure he would do it and he did. My congratulations."

"Now I must think about trying to regain the record. I most certainly shall make an attempt, but it will not be this year."

President of League Assembly Says Will to Live Is Returning Among Nations; Geneva Session Ends

By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Correspondent

Geneva, Oct. 11.—Charles de Water, president of the League of Nations Assembly, told the fourteenth session of the Assembly shortly before it adjourned today, that the will to live had asserted itself among the nations of the world.

"Defeatism is being defeated by those powers the innate recovery of which many of us insufficiently discounted in our gloomy prognoses," he declared. South African High Commissioner to Great Britain, declared.

He praised efforts of the countries to secure national regeneration and alluding to disarmament, predicted peace was assured. "If the leaders of the great powers change their policies from fear and resentment to a policy of generosity," he said.

The president's closing speech was of a far different tone from that delivered on the opening day by Johan Mowinkel, Premier of Norway, who started the Assembly with a warning war impending.

QUICKLY COMPLETED WORK
The Assembly rushed through its agenda and adjourned earlier than expected.

The outstanding problem of the session was Germany's treatment of the Jews. A number of speakers in the assembly commissions criticized the German stand and branded as unacceptable the Reich's theory of the ethnic unity.

The Germans accepted a proposal the League Council appoint a High Commissioner to deal with Jewish refugees provided the project is not otherwise linked to the League. By voting negatively, however, the German delegates succeeded in securing rejection of a section of a minority resolution calculated to pledge them to give the League Council, as other nations agreed the minority people.

The Assembly adopted many reports showing progress has been achieved in social domains, like the abolition of slavery and the fight against narcotics, and went on record with the view the World Economic Conference has not yet completed its work.

Prairies Told By Bennett His Tariff Policy May Change

to the royal commission on banking which has just concluded its work in Canada. He pointed out that the direct exchange transactions between Canada and London and the value of the Canadian dollar in relation to the pound sterling were factors of which he was aware in his report.

WHEAT EXPORTS

Referring to the wheat conference, the Prime Minister said Canada's quota of 200,000,000 bushels of the estimated world export of 1,000,000,000 bushels, the Dominion's slightly higher percentage of the world market than the country enjoyed in the ten-year period from 1920 to 1930. One of the greatest contributing factors of the depression was the surplus of wheat and other commodities and he believed the wheat agreement would be the solution.

Any government of Canada would be "recruct in its duty" if it attempted at the present time to launch a policy similar to that laid down in the national recovery programme in the United States.

He expressed his interest in the experiment in the United States and admiration for the objectives of shorter hours and higher wages. He referred also to the friendly relations between the two countries.

But Canada, he said, had only some ten and a half millions of people against the United States' 120,000,000. The fourth Canada was a debtor country, and such a course in the Dominion would be folly at this time, he declared.

BOARD OF TRADE EVENT

Mr. Bennett's speech was delivered while he was guest of honor at the tenth anniversary banquet of the young-men's section of the Winnipeg Board of Trade. More than 110 men were present. The banquet was served in Winnipeg's Civic Auditorium, while as many more occupied gallery seats for the speech-making.

Yesterday evening's function was the last of a series of events planned by the Prime Minister, continuously engaged since he arrived here Monday morning.

NO APOLOGY
He had no apology to offer for boosting the protective measures, the Prime Minister declared. The tariffs had been imposed to offset the tremendous surplus of imports over exports and this had been achieved.

In 1922 the surplus was $60,000,000. In the year of 1932 it had reached $114,000,000. Statistics now showed 85 per cent of salaries now earned in Canada was being spent on Canadian produce.

The Prime Minister stressed the value of home markets and at the same time a need for a greater population in Canada. "We raised the tariff that Canada might not become the dumping ground of the nations of the world," Mr. Bennett said, "and it was by no means intended to become a permanent policy."

"It had been placed in their proper category," the Imperial Conference so far as the empire was concerned and the Tariff Board was now required to make regulations to assure all efficient industries in the commonwealth should have a fair opportunity.

ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

The World Economic Conference was not a failure and its benefits would become more evident as time advanced, he declared. The conference had declared in favor of the metal backing of currencies and found gold and silver both should be used. Domestic relations in the United States which developed after the World Economic Conference had been called had prevented an agreement being reached on currency stabilization.

RELIEF SYSTEM

Speaking of relief, Mr. Bennett said the policy laid down by the Dominion provincial and municipal governments, that no man, woman or child should be without the necessities of life, has been realized," the Prime Minister said, "as it has not been realized in other countries."

He paid tribute to the fortitude and spirit of the people in adverse circumstances and also to the taxpayers of Canada. Since August, 1930, Mr. Bennett said, loans to provinces, direct relief and public works had cost the federal government $122,582,000, of which $7,896,000 had gone to Manitoba. This province had also received guarantees of $5,800,000 for a bond issue and $12,000,000 for the depositors of the Provincial Savings Bank.

These efforts had been made necessary and the government had spent to the full limit of the exchequer of the relief legislation enacted in 1930 and aimed forward since Mr. Bennett said it was constitutionally impossible for the Dominion Government to set up a national relief organization.

The jurisdiction rested with the provinces, and it was for that reason the policy was adopted of assisting with money the actual relief works carried on by the provinces and municipalities.

BUSINESS RECOVERY

Now, said Mr. Bennett, there was distinct evidence of business recovery in only in Canada, but in many of the countries in the world whose prosperity was most associated with that of Canada.

At the end of April last, statistics indicated 1,522,000 people were being assisted by relief. At the end of September last the number had fallen to less than 1,000,000.

"The movement back along the road to recovery must be gradual and dragging, especially in a country such as Canada," Mr. Bennett said, "but I want to give you a message of hope and confidence in the future."

WHEAT TEST
It was accepted by the representatives at the London Wheat Conference that "the recovery of wheat prices was the test of world recovery," Mr. Bennett said.

Canada had increased her wheat acreage from 10,000,000 acres to 25,000,000 in ten years and the share of the world market grew from 14 per cent to 35 per cent. The result was inevitable, Mr. Bennett said. The price of wheat had fallen to its lowest level it had sold for in 400 years.

"When a wise business man finds he has more goods than he can sell, he reduces his inventory," Mr. Bennett declared, referring to the agreement of the wheat-producing countries to reduce acreage by 15 per cent.

"THRESHOLD OF RECOVERY"
"We stand on the threshold of recovery," the Prime Minister said in closing. He referred to those who were "crying aloud for leadership, unwilling to lead themselves into any effort."

Others urged Canada embark on a great recovery programme similar to that in the United States. He repeated his Montreal statement that Canada, as a debtor country, could not afford to launch such a programme.

"No careful Canadian government should risk the integrity of the Dominion and all that has been built up by experience and the wisdom of a play of forces over which this country could not exercise any control," he declared.

He was in complete sympathy with any move for shorter hours and higher wages, but the time was not present for the launching of any such wage and cost-of-living program, coupled with patriotic effort, would have to be the course in Canada.

It was not inconceivable the great crisis of the depression yet lingered on the horizon or failure of the States experiment, said Mr. Bennett.

EXPORTS REDUCED

Calgary, Oct. 11.—The London International wheat agreement reduces Canada's export of $1,000,000 bushels, according to Hon. Charles Stewart, M.P. for Edmonton West, who was in Calgary yesterday. The former Liberal Minister declared Prime Minister Bennett's policy of curbing production would lead to more unemployment.

way about Premier Tolmie. He was sure that the admiration felt by residents of Spanish was similar to his own for the Premier. He said that his friendships had to be forgotten for a sense of duty.

The Tolmie Government had come to power under most auspicious conditions, and had felt that great success could be effected during the period of prosperity, he said. Since taking office, however, he had known of nothing but a reckless programme of expenditure instead of economizing.

The provincial debt when the Tolmie government took over was $102,000,000, and last March government ministers had admitted this amount to be $150,000,000. Mr. Pearson did not hesitate in predicting that when the government officially left office, $170,000,000 would be on the short side of an estimate of its debt. A speaker could spend an entire evening playing the government for its acts against the best interests of the country, Mr. Pearson said.

There was hardly any phase of present-day difficulties which had not been increased due to the action of the Tolmie Government.

IN THE SAME MANNER

He referred briefly to candidates who were appearing for office in the campaign. There were Premier Tolmie and his four or five supporters, who if returned, would administer in the same manner as they had done in the last five years. There were members of the independent party, which consisted largely of ex-members of the Tolmie administration, but Mr. Pearson had more respect for the Premier and his few standbys than for those who had deserted him in his hour of need and had turned around and flown the flag of the independents.

The C.C.F. Mr. Pearson said, was purely an experimental party. If the elections thought carefully they could see that the C.C.F. did not offer any solution to British Columbia's problems, and if they watched the party they could see that it did not promise to do anything but to keep the party in power.

"Should the C.C.F. get control of British Columbia in the coming election, you would be in far greater difficulties in the next two years than you are now," Mr. Pearson warned. No party could tear down the structure which had been built up over a period of hundreds of years, and while the C.C.F. knew this to be impossible, it advocated such a change, he said. He charged that the main points of the federalist platform were not applicable to British Columbia and the party members knew it.

WORK AND WAGES

The people of this province wanted work, wages and better living and the Liberal party was not unmindful of this, Mr. Pearson assured. It was only possible to go so far with the province's resources, however, but these conditions were being kept in mind.

speaker felt that a plan might be devised whereby an industrial board or, which, if given sufficiently wide powers, could limit working hours and wages in the province and thereby create more employment and meet the needs of many of those now out of work. Such a body, he thought, would stabilize employment conditions.

In support of this latter suggestion, the practicality of which would depend solely on the powers vested in the board, Mr. Pearson said there were labor laws on the statute books of British Columbia, which, if enforced, would limit the working day to eight hours, and which would place other restrictions on industry to regulate it to such an extent that plenty of employment would be provided.

Mr. Pearson felt that national unemployment insurance and state health insurance were somewhat utopian ideals for the present, as they had to be considered from a Federal angle. If such plans were considered for the province, they would be considered for the province.

Mr. Pearson said that plenty of employment would be provided.

day with the judges conducting the trial in which he and four others are charged with setting fire to the parliament building last February.

Judge Buenger had just finished announcing the day's programme when Dimitroff rose and said: "Your Honor, may I put a question?"

When Judge Buenger denied him the floor, Dimitroff flashed back: "But I am not only a defendant; I am also my own counsel, and I have a right to put a question."

Flushed with anger, Judge Buenger hurriedly got up and, with the entire court, left the hall to talk over what to do about it.

The judges, returning to the bench, announced Dimitroff would be excluded until further notice. In the middle of a defiant protest he was led out by two British policemen.

POPEHMAN TESTIFIES
The testimony was then taken of Police Lieutenant Emil Latex, whose detailed description of what he saw on entering the Reichstag's Plenary Hall, in substance, was:

"The Speaker's elevated table and the heavy portiere behind it looked like a gigantic organ on fire. There was practically no smoke."

This raised the question in the minds of some observers whether the drapes might have been dipped in some combustible substance like gasoline before the torch of the incendiary touched them.

Regarding Van Der Lubbe, who as usual sat impassive, his head bowed, Latex said:

"When I first saw him the night of the fire he impressed me as being crazy. To my question, 'Did you light the fire?' he replied, 'Yes.'"

M'GEER SCORES C.C.F. SCHEMES
Says Canada Must Seek Solution of Trouble in Empire Way

Vancouver, Oct. 11.—"Judge from this disorder what government under the C.C.F. would be like," said G. McGeer, K.C., to hecklers at a meeting of Grandview electors yesterday evening. "But you don't bother me a bit. I learned my politics in the boiler makers' union."

Mrs. Paul Smith, his fellow candidate in Vancouver-Burrard, also spoke. Mr. McGeer referred to Section 98 of the Criminal Code as a vicious system, which helps keep the bankers in power.

He devoted considerable attention to economics, especially the money and credit system, and outlined his programme for utilizing "national credit" to create purchasing power.

"The Liberals are prepared to lead a constitutional change against the real rulers of this country and establish a sane monetary system where the credit of the people will be used to distribute the necessities of the people,"

Hitler's Book Tells Of His Desire For German Expansion

He Hopes to Add Territory in Europe to His Country. But Does Not Ask For Restoration of Pre-war Colonies.

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
New York, Oct. 11. — Concentrated German forces as a panacea for postwar Europe's ills is offered by Adolf Hitler in the abridged English version
of his book, "Mein Kampf," published
here to-day.

He wrote:
"If the German nation is to stop the rot which threatens Europe, it must not fall into the errors of the pre-
war period and make enemies of God
and the world, but it must ascertain
who its most dangerous opponents are
so as to strike at them with all its concentrated force."

The book is titled "My Battle" and
is labeled an "autobiography," but it tells so little of the author's own life
that the publishers include a summary
of the highlights of his career.

Breathing throughout the spirit of German nationalism which Hitler always has emphasized, the late chapters of the volume explain his government has no desire to see Germany's pre-war colonies restored. Such a course, it is indicated, would react on
the purity of the race.

But on the thesis that "nothing but
sufficient space on earth ensures freedom or existence of a nation," he says
Germany must look to new lands in Europe and he adds:

"When we talk of new lands in Europe we are bound to think first of Russia and her border states." He sees the Soviet Union as bound to collapse because "the Jew has taken
the place of the German element,"
which he credits with having created
the pre-war Russian state.

"VICTORIOUS SWORD"
The frontiers of 1914 mean little to Hitler's foreign policy. "They were no
protections in the past, nor would they mean strength in the future," he says.
Boundaries are, in fact, "made and altered by human agency alone" and
the strength of the conqueror constitutes the right to possess. So he says:

"Just as our forefathers did not receive the land in which we live as a
present from heaven, but had to fight
with their lives for it, so in future
nothing will grant us land and life for
our nation except the power of a victorious sword."

He sees England as "really but the great capital city of the British world
empire."

The book's opening sentences enunciate his doctrine of "Anschluss," or union of Austria and Germany. He speaks of them as "the two German states."

RIVAL PASTOR SHOOTS JANITOR

Minister in Jonesboro, Ark., Jail For Wounding of Man
at Church

Associated Press
Jonesboro, Ark., Oct. 11. — A burst of gun fire sent Rev. Dale S. Crowley
to jail yesterday evening for shooting
a janitor at the Jonesboro Baptist Tabernacle, where he had gone with a
court order and a pistol to take charge
as its legal pastor.

Shot three times, the janitor, A. W.
McMurdock, sixty-five, who had been ordered to leave by Crowley, was in a critical condition in a hospital.

In a statement to A. A. Tadlock,
deputy prosecuting attorney, McMurdock
accused Crowley of shooting him "in cold blood." Crowley, in jail with millions on the outside, declared he had shot in self-defence after the janitor had fired once at him.

The shooting climaxed a two-month
series of turbulent episodes growing out of a dispute between Crowley and
Rev. Joe Jeffers, militant evangelist,
over the pastorate.

Crowley had just won a long court
controversy with the Jeffers faction in which the chancery court here recognized him as the legal pastor and restrained followers of Jeffers from interfering with his activities at the tabernacle.

TELLS OF THREATS
With a half dozen of his followers,
Crowley, armed with a pistol because
he said of threats against his life, went
to the tabernacle yesterday afternoon
to take charge.

McMurdock, who had acted as janitor
of the tabernacle for the Jeffers faction
during the court fight, had living quarters there. Crowley ordered him to get his belongings and leave.

Crowley told newspapermen that as he was walking out of the pastorate's
study in the rear of the tabernacle, McMurdock fired at him. L. H. Kayre,
who was with the pastor, struck the
janitor's arm with a cane and the bullet went wild, Crowley said. McMurdock denied he fired a shot, although admitting he had a gun.

Crowley said that after McMurdock
had fired at him, he stumbled out the door and his pistol fell from his pocket. Seizing it, he turned and began firing. Three shots struck the janitor, one in the head, one in the abdomen and one in the leg.

A tense situation existed yesterday
evening, with followers of Jeffers milling about the jail in which Crowley
was held. Officers considered taking
the minister out of the city.

HUNT FOR SLAYER IN PENITENTIARY

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Oct. 11. — Possibility a murderer may be hiding in the barred
cells of Stony Mountain penitentiary
is being investigated by Winnipeg police. A checkup is now being made on several convicts in the penitentiary to determine if one of them is new Major
P. B. E. Tucker, Winnipeg bank manager who was shot down in a hold-up
in May, 1931.

The tip, it was learned, came from a former inmate of the penitentiary who got in touch with police in another
city, who in turn passed the word on to the Winnipeg police. The names of both the informer and the suspected
convict are closely guarded police secrets.

STRENGTH LOST BY TAMMANY

President Roosevelt Watches Contest Brought on By Mayorality Election

Associated Press
Washington, Oct. 11. — While President Roosevelt and Postmaster-General James H. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, have consistently refused to comment on the New York mayorality situation,
either on or "off the record," there is a distinct undercurrent of elation in some administration circles over developments.

The demand of the majority of his
district leaders that John H. McCooey,
for twenty-two years leader of Brooklyn
and powerful Tammany ally, retire
from his place, and news that further desertions from Tammany were taking place, only added to the pleasure which developments of the last two or three days had brought.

No effort has been made at the White House to conceal the administration's interest or stake in the situation in New York. The prize stake is the New York electoral vote in the presidential race of 1936. The immediate stake is control of New York City
by adherents of the Farley-Roosevelt
wing of the Democratic Party. Tam-
many has not been friendly to Mr.
Roosevelt and opposed him at the Chicago convention.

NEW ANAESTHETIC
Chicago, Oct. 11 (Associated Press). —
A new anaesthetic gas, developed by two professors of Toronto and which
relaxes patients as completely as ether,
was described to the congress of anaesthetists here yesterday by University of Wisconsin experimenters. It is cyclopropane, and was produced by Prof. V. E. Henderson and Prof. George H. W. Lucas of Toronto. The gas has been used successfully about 230 operations in the Wisconsin hospital.

Chicago, Oct. 11. — An Australian knight and a Chicago beer baron met yesterday. The place was the corridor
outside Chief Justice Phillip Sullivan's court room in the Criminal Courts Building.

A guide piloting Sir Barry Fuller of Sydney, Australia, through the building did the honors.

"Sir Barry," he said, "meet Edward
'Spike' O'Donnell, one of Chicago's public enemies."

"I've heard of you in Australia," ac-knowledgeed Sir Barry.

"Delighted," said "Spike," shifting
his eyes to the other side of his mouth
as he accepted Sir Barry's hand
"How's the tricks in Australia?"

CAPTIVE WAPITI ARE LET LOOSE

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 11. — Tasting the full
joys of freedom for the first time in their lives, two wapiti born in the Stanley Park Zoo, and three other
wapiti, captives since infancy, were released by the provincial game department on the north shore of Howe
Sound, near Woodville, yesterday.

Loggers at a camp near the valley
in which the wapiti were released have undertaken to provide hay for the animals, if necessary, during the winter. The kind-hearted men fear that,
having been so long accustomed to
have food provided for them, the animals may not be capable of rustling
for themselves as animals that have always had to forage for their feed.

Weights Stretch Legs to Normal

Associated Press
Chicago, Oct. 11. — An Italian surgeon
told the American College of Surgeons
here yesterday evening that cripples
could be stretched to normally easily
by a new process.

The new procedure, said Prof. Vi-
torio Putti of Bologna, makes it possible to lengthen deformed legs with much success.

The instruments used are "bone
breaker weights and piano wire."
Prof. Putti has been able to lengthen
legs as much as three inches, he said.
Putti breaks the leg obliquely, inserts
piano wire in the bone to hold the two
ends in line and pulls the lower end
out with weights at the thin fracture
opening and gives the leg its normal
length. The job takes twenty days, or about the time necessary to heal an ordinary fracture.

AN INVESTMENT THAT ALWAYS PAYS

It always pays a Canadian citizen
to invest in Dominion of Canada Bonds. It pays as a matter of hard-headed investment. It pays again in general benefit, because national progress means individual welfare.

The investor who bought Victory Loan Bonds
in 1918 knows what a sound investment they have been. Twice each year, for the last 15
years, he has received the promised interest.
He has been able, at any time, to turn his Bonds
into cash. His money has always been safe.

Convert Now — Buy Now

To these Victory Bond owners Canada now
offers a continuation of their investment by exchanging their maturing Bonds for the new 1933 Refunding Loan Bonds. No cash outlay is required. All reinvestment worry is avoided. To convert is to continue a satisfactory experience.

The new Bonds may also be obtained by cash
purchase. This is an opportunity to place savings in the best investment obtainable—an investment giving unquestioned safety—regular income—constant marketability—and,
above all, peace of mind for years to come.

Every Investor Will Benefit

Every investor will share the general benefits
which the success of the new Loan means to Canadians. It means an advantage to every taxpayer by materially reducing the present

weight of public interest charges. It will assist every business enterprise and every citizen by further enhancing Canadian credit and sustaining economic recovery.

The 1933 Refunding Loan is a great national effort in which Canada invites and expects every investor, large or small, to take part. It is to your advantage, as outlined below, to apply
today for as many of the new Bonds as your circumstances permit you to take.

DOMINION OF CANADA 1933 REFUNDING LOAN

To holders of Victory Bonds due
November 1st, 1933

You can obtain an extra cash allowance for
your Victory Bonds by exchanging them NOW
for the new 12-Year Bonds. You can also obtain an accrued interest advantage by an immediate exchange for any maturity of the new issue. These special concessions are available for a limited period only.

To Cash Subscribers

As the Loan is strictly limited in amount and all
cash subscriptions are subject to allotment, you
are urged to enter your application without delay.

Where to Apply

Application forms and official prospectus containing full details of the Loan may be obtained
from any Bank or Bond Dealer.

Weddings
 SHINER-SNIDER

The Sluggert Memorial Baptist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday evening at 8 o'clock, when the Rev. J. B. Rowell united in marriage Bertha Veronica, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Snider, Brentwood, and Mr. Alfred Leslie Shiner, second son of Mr. J. Shiner, Tod Inlet, and the late Mr. Shiner.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, made a charming picture in her ankle-length frock of deep blue tulle with a wide lace collar and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and fern. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Myrtle Snider, who was dressed becomingly in an eel grey satin frock with tulle and lace, and carried a bouquet of pale shades of poppy, scabiosa, sweet alyssum and maidenhair fern.

Mr. Stanley Shiner supported the groom and Mr. Charles Sluggert acted as usher. Miss Alma Heyer played the wedding march during the signing of the register. Miss Ida Heyer sang very sweetly, "Because."

Following the ceremony a reception to immediate relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and groom received felicitations. Standing beneath a large white tent, helping to receive were Mrs. Snider, mother of the bride, in a gown of navy blue crepe with hat to match, and Mrs. Shiner, mother of the groom, in a dress of black crepe-back satin trimmed with lace and hat in suite. They wore a corsage of rose-buds and violets.

A handsome three-tiered wedding cake centred the supper table, surrounded by a silver vase of rose-buds. White tapers in silver holders were placed at each end of the daintily appointed table.

After the happy couple left by motor for up-island, the bride traveling in a smart outfit of friar brown with accessories to match. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Shiner will reside at Tod Inlet.

IS MARRIED IN SEATTLE

Pretty Wedding Unites Miss Margaret Smethurst and James B. Nelson

A very pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. A. G. Smith at St. Paul's Church, Seattle, on Monday, October 9, when Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smethurst, Victoria, was united in marriage to Mr. James Barclay Nelson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nelson of Seattle. Friends of both the bride and groom had decorated the church with autumn flowers, the guests being marked with pink and cream satin bows. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mr. A. Pearce. Miss Celia Nelson and Miss Mary Taylor were bridesmaids, while Mr. Harold Nelson, brother of the groom, was best man. During the signing of the register Mr. Nelson sang "I Love You Truly." The ushers were Mr. J. Munro, Mr. Cecil Luger and Mr. Harold Spencer. The entire church and vestry were filled with the large crowd of friends of the young couple.

CHARMING BRIDE
 The bride's dress was of egg-shell satin with a silver lace collar to match. Her beautiful silk wedding veil fell in graceful folds to the ground and she wore a wreath of orange blossom in her hair and carried an ivory-backed prayer book. The bridesmaids wore dresses of pink and cream and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony the reception was held at the A.C.T.S. Hall where nearly 300 guests assembled to wish the young couple happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. Smethurst, wearing a smart ensemble of navy blue crepe de Chine with hat to match and also wearing a corsage

Women To-day Rivalling Pioneers In Fine Spirit

Says J. B. Munro in Able Address at Women's Institute Convention

Delegates From South Vancouver Island Meeting at Parliament Buildings

"The girls and women of British Columbia are demonstrating that they are just as versatile, capable, adaptable and ingenious as ever their mothers and grandmothers were. They are proving their ability to cope with the ever-changing conditions and responsibilities that confront them in these strenuous times. Profiting by their experiences of a year ago, many of our rural families are this fall storing up for the coming winter the food supplies they produced during the past summer. And hundreds of tons of those fruits and vegetables are being stored for winter use as a result of the efforts of our organized women. The Women's Institutes have taken no small part in stimulating the interest of unemployed in the production of vegetables."

This tribute to the resourcefulness of the women of the province was paid by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, in a challenging address at the opening session this morning of the Women's Institutes of South Vancouver Island district. The sessions are being held to-day and to-morrow in the Parliament Buildings with delegates from all parts of the southern island in attendance.

SPRIT OF SELF-HELP
 Mr. Munro, after complimenting the institutes on their faithful adherence to their motto, "For Home and Country," spoke on the need for stimulating the spirit of self-help during the present difficult economic period. He called the hardships to which women have overcome by the pioneer women of this great west, and observed that their example was being splendidly emulated to-day in hundreds of British Columbia homes, where women, hard-pressed by poverty and actuated by the spirit of home-preservation are showing remarkable ingenuity in making ends meet.

The speaker quoted several instances coming within his purview of the employed women in relief camps throughout the province, and struggling to keep their families clothed, fed and healthy. Reference was also made to the achievement of the rural women of British Columbia along other lines, notably in the stimulating of agriculture through the medium of the W. I. fairs—and through the larger media, such as the grain fair at Regina. He also commended the work of the junior farmer clubs, which the Women's Institutes have done so much to foster, and noted with pride that last fall an Okanagan woman, in competition against women from twenty-five other countries, had won third prize for canned vegetables at the Indiana show.

FOR RELIEF CAMPS
 Interesting business considered at the morning session included the appeal, sponsored by the military authorities, for assistance in supplying recreational facilities for the single unemployed men in relief camps throughout British Columbia. The letter stated that there were approximately 2,000 men in the forty-nine camps in this province with prospects of a large increase in the number during the coming winter. Sent to these isolated communities by reason of their being jobless, though no fault of their own, these men were deserving of the most sympathetic consideration from more fortunate citizens, the letter continued, and the women were asked to help in keeping up their health and their spirits by sending recreational facilities, such as books, both educational and fiction, magazines, sports equipment, such as football and baseball gear, indoor games and mouth organs for the camps.

Many of the delegates expressed their sympathy with the appeal, which will be referred back to the various institutes.

Late Mrs. I. Sandwith of San Juan Island Leaves Daughter and Sister in Victoria

Mrs. Isaac Sandwith, a native daughter of Victoria, having been born here in 1855, passed away last week at her home on San Juan Island, where she had lived many years. The funeral took place at the Valley Presbyterian Church on the island, Rev. W. A. Hitchcock officiating. The remains were laid beside those of her husband, who passed away ten years ago.

The late Mrs. Sandwith was born Sarah Harriet Porter, in Victoria on January 2, 1855. She was educated in the pioneer schools of that day and lived with her parents inside the fort. At the age of nineteen years she went to San Juan Island as the bride of Isaac Sandwith, whom she knew in her girlhood days in Victoria, her husband having also spent his early days with his parents in this city. Their wedding on San Juan Island was a notable affair, the ceremony being performed by the late Rev. T. J. Weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandwith had three daughters, Sarah Frances Sandwith, who passed away in 1898; Mrs. Hannah E. Jensen of Friday Harbor, and Mrs. Mary J. Handley, who resides in Victoria, and one son, Joseph Sandwith, of Friday Harbor. The late pioneer lady's sister, Mrs. Mary Cooper, still resides in Victoria, and is one of the best known of the older residents. There are also ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Mrs. Sandwith's parents were numbered among the original settlers of Victoria. They came here in the days when the city was a Hudson's Bay post and Vancouver Island was a Crown Colony. Governor James Douglas at its head.

San Juan Island looked on the late Mrs. Sandwith as one of its pioneers, and she was a highly respected and popular resident. She was a member of San Juan Island Lodge, and always took a keen interest in the affairs of the community.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

Many mothers think that children of school age should have a hot drink for breakfast—particularly on those mornings when a hot cereal is not served. But with coffee considered taboo for growing girls and boys, and the ideal hot milk seldom proving popular, just what to serve becomes more or less of a problem.

Older children may find a cereal "coffee" served with hot milk quite to their liking. Young children from six to twelve years of age need a drink containing more actual food value than the cereal beverage unless it is made wholly with milk. A cup of hot milk flavored with one or two tablespoons of a cereal coffee infusion may appeal to the juniors.

Cocoa also makes an excellent flavoring for the cup of hot milk suitable for the juniors' breakfast.

HIGH IN PROTEIN

Fat, starch and protein are found in dry cocoa, and when whole milk is used and sugar added, the result is a drink of high food value, nourishing and wholesome. One cup of cocoa made entirely with whole milk furnishes 217 calories of protein, fat and carbohydrates.

Because cocoa contains starch, care must be taken in the making of the drink. Thorough cooking is necessary for the starch, but undesirable for the milk. Consequently the cocoa must be well cooked before the milk is added. The "skin" which sometimes forms on top of cocoa is the albumin of the milk coagulated by heat. Care in not overheating the milk and constant stirring while the milk is heating do much to prevent this. Beating with a Dover beater after the milk is added increases the smoothness of the drink and tends to remove the "skin" if the milk was allowed to scald. Chocolate and cocoa may often be used interchangeably, but cocoa is less rich in fat and easier to digest. This makes it a better beverage for small children.

To-morrow's Menu
Breakfast—Orange juice, cereal, cream, baked French toast, brown sugar syrup, cocoa, coffee.
Luncheon—Cream of onion soup, croquettes, tomato and cabbage salad, rice pudding, grape juice.
Dinner—Casserole of mutton chops and vegetables, head lettuce with chiffonade dressing, raisin pie, milk, coffee.

Scottish Girls Ask Mayor To Find Them Husbands

Wanted—"Two lovely bachelors," healthy, tall and industrious; object, matrimony.

This is not an advertisement from a matrimonial agency, but represents the purport of a letter received yesterday from two Scottish women who are soliciting his assistance in finding them husbands. The letter, which is written from Glasgow, follows:

"We are two girls, gentle women, aged thirty and twenty-eight respectively, and, having heard how wonderful British Columbia and its people are, we want to ask you to find us two lovely bachelors—healthy, tall and industrious—who might be interested in matrimony with two girls looking for a good home and husband. Men who really need healthy, honest, hard-working helpmates, are what we want."

"We have no father, and mother died a short time ago, leaving us penniless and alone (our mother never allowed us to make friends). Apart from a good education, breeding and training, we are only able to cook and sew and housework under the conditions in this city."

"I beg of you, most sincerely, to help us in this matter. We are old-fashioned, simple-living Scots people, used to country life, and very, very desirous of a good home and husband and children."

"We are hoping you will be unconventional this once. People here are used to country life, and very, very desirous of a good home and husband and children. But we could never go as servant girls. I shall count the hours till I hear from you."

Associated Press Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—For the first time in twelve years of its existence, men are permitted in the swimming pool at the Young Women's Christian Association.

How to Pick Lifetime Mate

Enumerates Qualities Worth Having

Choose Your Life Partner as You Would a Horse!

Pick One That Is Well-bred, That Is Sound in Wind and Limb, and That Is Gentle, Kind and Willing to Pull Squavely in Double Harness

OF COURSE there is no absolutely infallible rule for telling, before marriage, what sort of husband or wife a man or woman will make, but here are some signs that are worth observing which show which way the winds are blowing—and likely to blow.

If I were a man and discovered myself falling in love, before I let things slip from under my feet for good and all, I would make an heroic effort to find out whether the young woman had any good, hard, common sense or not.

A peachy complexion in a woman is highly desirable; a willowy figure is not to be despised, and golden tresses, have their undeniable charm. It is also delightful to bill and coo and ask, "Does duck is so?" And it is ravishing to meet up with a young woman who is a real soulmate, with lovely thoughts about free verse and the whangness of the what.

But these things are not enough to marry on, son. Beauty fades. Love talk dries up at the altar and culture is liable to get upon a man's nerves in time, if it is not backed up by the sanity and philosophy that spring from old-fashioned horse sense.

That is the thing that gives a woman the ability to meet whatever comes in life with cheerfulness and courage, and make the best of it. It is the quality that makes a woman livable, and unless she has got that you are going to wish yourself back in your bachelor den many a time and oft.

There is hope for every sort of woman on earth but a fool; but if the Almighty did not put any more brains in a woman's head than He did in a sparrow, she is beyond the reach of human reason. You can't argue with her; you can't convince her; you can't convert her. She is just bound to go along her little, narrow bird's way of life, and her husband has to follow. He is simply helpless before her incapacity.

If I were a girl and ascertained that I was putting a few more extra crimps in my hair when it seemed likely to me that a certain youth might call, before I heated the curling tongs another time I would make a strenuous effort to get some sort of line on his breadth of character.

When I went out with him I would do some Sherlock Holmesing to find out if he was a broad-gauged fellow or one of the pesky and pernicious kind that are always in a stew over trifles. If he was the sort of man that gets in rows with the street-car conductors over the fare and quarrels with the waiter at the theatre and bullies the waiters in the restaurant and sends back the steak to have it cooked over three different times—why I should say to myself:

"Say, say, Laure! The Spinsters' Retreat for yours, rather than life with a man who will always be poking about the pantry, measuring the potato peelings and coming with the cook and who would demand that the breakfast to know why bacon in his house never could be cooked as they did it at the Palace."

On the other hand, when I found a man that everybody called Bill or Charlie, and slapped on the back; if I observed that stray dogs followed him on the street and little children clustered about him; if I saw Negro waiters begin to grin when he entered the restaurant and, when any little contemptuous sneer I watched him smooth it all out with a few good-humored words that made even grumpy faces relax—why, if he didn't propose to me first I'd pop the question to him, because I would know that he was the kind of man that makes every day a holiday for his wife and who is like a ray of sunshine in a home.

If I were a man seeking a wife I would take particular notice of a woman's attitude toward a dollar. If she seemed to think that it was only good to throw at the birds—good-night for me! I would want a wife who had a good, wholesome reverence for money and the hard work and self-denial that it takes on a man's part to make it.

So little Fluffy, who brags that she can never tell what anything costs and that she never knows where her allowance goes and that money is only good to spend, anyway, would not get me. I should simply beat it from her presence, for I should know that the man who marries her will be poor to his dying day.

If I were a man looking for a wife I would find out if the girl knew anything about housekeeping, because I should not desire to be poisoned by an amateur cooking or bankrupted by a bride who did not know whether she ought to order two breasts of veal or one from the butcher.

No girl who bathes the kitchen and whose ambition it is to live in a hotel could ever be useful enough to work me into standing for her board bill. The trim and tidy little maid who can make her own clothes and go out and get dinner and do the marketing for her family and then be as sweet and as fresh as a rose and ready for all sorts of fun would be my choice. And when I made it I wouldn't need any insurance company to guarantee the happiness of that wedding.

And if I were a girl I would not marry any man who did not have some settled ways of making a living. I would not demand riches, but I would be a Missouri lady, and the aspirant to my hand would have to show me that he could support me. For what you will, there is no happiness in the home where the husband is a shiftless ne'er-do-well, who can never hold down a good job, and the wife spends the day in standing off the bill collector. The people who marry on nothing but love are generally soon bankrupt in that also.

After all, though, the rules that apply to selecting a satisfactory life partner are not nearly so difficult as those that prevail in picking out a horse. Just get one that is well bred, that is sound in wind and limb and that is gentle, kind and willing to pull squarely in double harness.

Men Who Found America

COLUMBUS TELLS HIS STORY of beads to wear upon the neck. They were much delighted. "Afterward they came swimming to the boats bringing parrots, balls of cotton and many other things. In exchange we gave them glass beads and I gave them beads. This trade was carried on with the utmost good will.

"All whom I saw were young, not over thirty years of age, well made, with fine shapes and faces. Their hair was short and coarse like a horse's tail, combed toward the forehead except a small portion which they let hang down behind.

"Some paint themselves with black, others with white and others with red. Some paint the face, and some the whole body.

"I showed them swords which they treasured because they did not know better. They have no iron, their spears being made without it, and being nothing more than sticks—though some have feathers or other sharp things at the ends.

"It appears to me that the natives are quick-witted and would be good servants. I believe they would very quickly become Christians. I intend to carry home six of them to your Highnesses. I saw no beasts in the island, nor any sort of animals except parrots."

After History section of your scrapbook.

Columbus named the island San Salvador. It was one of the Bahama group, but we have no certain word of which one it was. Most likely it was either what we call Watling's Island or the Grand Turk.

It is our good fortune to have a record made by Columbus himself, telling about his first day in the New World. Here, in part, is the meaning of the words he wrote:

"As I saw that the natives were very friendly to us, and that they could be converted to our holy faith by gentle means rather than by force, I gave them some red caps and strings of beads."

Artist's idea of Columbus setting foot on land.

Jockey Jimmy Hunter Goes Over Big on Tracks at Chicago

Victoria Boy Being Rated Serious Threat to Jack Westrope

Garden's Refusal to Cut in Dempsey Holds Up Carnera-Baer Bout

LITTLE Jimmy Hunter, Victoria jockey who gained the heights on British Columbia tracks during the recent racing season by his brilliant string of winning mounts, is creating quite a sensation these days on the tracks at Chicago. The local boy is continuing his great summer performance at Victoria and Vancouver and the American fans are beginning to follow his riding with just as much interest as the British Columbia followers of the sport of kings did in the provincial meets. Hunter has been getting lots of fine publicity and the following is clipped from an article under the by-line of Paul Hirtenstein, that appeared in one of the Chicago newspapers.

"In this corner ladies and gentlemen is the present champion Jockey Jack Westrope, hard-riding king of the apprentice division. And in the other corner, ladies, is the challenger Jimmy Hunter, from the wide-open spaces of Canada. Twelve rounds over the Washington Park route to a decision, Westrope, fresh from a triumphant meeting at Rockingham Park, is continuing his march to the jockey honors of 1933 and may be a new all-time record for winning mounts. But Hunter has recruited an army of followers and his loyal fans are saying that the Dempsey-Baer fight is being arranged to have a chance to take Westrope and stop Jack's victory march and pile up enough wins for himself to seriously threaten the top honors for 1933. Westrope is the leading apprentice rider in America and has quite a jump on his latest rival."

The emphatic refusal of Col. John Kilpatrick, head of Madison Square Garden, to play ball with Jack Dempsey in his negotiations to pair Primo Carnera with Max Baer for a bout at New York next June, eventually may result in the Garden holding the sack with Carnera. While the Garden holds the exclusive rights on Primo's services until September 1, 1934, Dempsey holds a similar contract on the heavier, more heavily weighted, consequently, what at present shapes up as the biggest and most natural fight around, looks like it may never be arranged. Baer and his adviser, Anell Hoffman, have informed Kilpatrick that while they are interested in a title match with Carnera, they are not interested in the fight if Dempsey is the promoter. Unless Jack is figured in, they want no part of the proposed match.

Questioned recently whether the Garden would take Dempsey in as a partner of the match, as he did at Miami Beach, Kilpatrick answered in the negative, adding the Garden would promote the fight or there would be no such contract. Madison Square Garden is not interested in Dempsey directly or even indirectly with Dempsey relative to the Carnera-Baer match," said Kilpatrick. "Dempsey is a great fellow and a mighty fine attraction, but that is no reason why we should take him in as a partner to make the match."

Whether Dempsey will consent to step out of the picture and hand his Garden rivals the services of Baer without any remuneration is problematical. That at least is what Kilpatrick is anxious for him to do. Dempsey was successful in New York last summer in his initial promotion of the Baer-Schmeling bout. While Jack didn't make much money out of the match, he did establish himself as a promoter and according to the experts he is welcome back to the big town any time he desires to return and stage a match.

Foursome Competition For Gorge Vale Women
Women members of the Gorge Vale Golf Club will hold a two-ball foursome competition during the coming week-end, partners to be drawn. Eighteen holes will be played and matches should be played on Saturday morning or afternoon, or on Sunday afternoon. Entries must be made without delay to the secretary, telephone 9481.

Miss Peggy Allen won the nine-hole tombstone competition held last week-end, planting her "tombstone" at the end of her drive on the tenth hole. Mrs. C. J. MacKenzie, who came second, "died" in the cup on the ninth hole.

100 TO 6 CHOICE TAKES HANDICAP BY TWO LENGTHS

Gelding of J. E. Widener, New York, Surprises By Win in English Classic

LOOSE STRIFE PLACES SECOND

Roi De Paris in Third Position; Thirty-three Start at Newmarket Track

Newmarket, Eng., Oct. 11.—English-bred and United States owned, the lightly regarded Seminole scored a smashing upset to-day in winning the Cesarewitch Stakes, famous handicap, by two lengths over Loose Strife, with Roi De Paris third, another four lengths back.

Seminole, by Diligence out of Blanche, owned by J. E. Widener, New York, started at odds of 100 to 6. The gelding carried 112 pounds and was ridden by Freddie Fox.

Loose Strife, at 100 to 7, carried 108 pounds with Perryman up. Roi De Paris, at 100 to 6, carried 110 pounds and was ridden by Nichol.

Thirty-three horses went the "two" and a quarter miles of the great race, first run in 1839, and among the unplaced entrants was the top weight of strong cue-wielders. The schedule for the remainder of the league follows:

WIND SWEEPES COURSE
A strong wind swept the course of the big stake and kept King George at Sandringham. He had planned to view the race but was advised by his physician to remain indoors. His Majesty's entry, Fox Earth, was never in contention and finished out of the money. Lord Derby's Guiscard and Sir Frederick's Kilmere, the first and second choices, respectively, in the pre-race betting, never figured. The former packed 115 pounds, but Kilmere had only ninety-three pounds aboard.

In the odds issue at various times previous to the race Seminole was never figured by the experts as a possible winner. Widener, one of the best-known of United States owners, has campaigned horses on English tracks for many years with considerable success, but his victory to-day came as a stunning upset.

LOCAL RIDERS STILL ON TOP

Parrott and Peden in First and Second Places in Montreal Bike Race

Canadian Press
Montreal, Oct. 10.—Rolling along at an impressive clip as the forty-sixth hour of the race got under way yesterday evening at the Forum here, the powerful Dutch-Canadian team of Van Kempen and Polly Parrott, Victoria, maintained a two-lead in a furious jam that marked the end of afternoon sprints.

A bad spill in the afternoon sent Tony Beckman, Newark, N.J., to hospital for an X-ray picture of a possible fracture of the right hand. He returned to the race the member tightly bandaged, pending development of the fracture. Beckman and little Jules Audy crashed together, and the New Jersey rider struck a guard rail.

National Campaign
Is Being Observed
Across Dominion

This Week Has Been Set Aside For Observance; Citizens' Duty Stressed

October 8 to 14 has been set aside
as "Fire Prevention Week," not only
in Victoria, but throughout the Dominion. This summons to a national duty sounds no less clearly than the
beat of drums and the blare of trumpets, that called all loyal citizens to arms against a common danger in bygone days. With all persons rests the responsibility, for every person, either
by direct carelessness or indifference
has contributed to the tremendous
loss and suffering by fire.

"We may easily ignore the fact that
in taxation and insurance rates we are personally charged with a portion of every fire loss. But some day we may find it hard to ignore the charred
ruins of a much-loved home, or to forget the cries of a helpless victim,"
said a local fire underwriter to-day.
"We can reason and take warnings
to heart, or we can snugly turn aside,
light a cigarette and toss the lighted
match into the wastepaper basket. It is a matter of conscience and carelessness which we choose to do."
"Individual responsibility for loss
by fire seems a drastic corrective to
the ordinary anarchist, who believes that his neighbors can look after themselves, no matter how unneigh-borly his own acts may be. There is

aid from the fire department he should be made to pay for it. Citizens are asked to awaken from their lethargy with regard to fires and to do their duty."

City Wiring Inspector Warns
Against Defective Wiring

Following are a few hints regarding
fire prevention prepared by Walter B.
McMicking, city wiring inspector:
"If a fuse blows out, you are either
overloading your wiring system, or you have a defective appliance connected
to your outlets. The trouble is not corrected by increasing the size of the fuse which is the electrical safety
valve. Use not larger than fifteenampere fuses for your house circuits.
Never place a metal washer or coin behind the fuse, thereby eliminating all
chance of fuse protection.
"Have all appliance cords repaired or replaced when they become worn or ravelled.

to direct the attention of the public to the appalling losses suffered
from fire and to encourage all classes of the community to do everything possible to eliminate
fire hazards.

"Only by constant care and
watchfulness can the danger from
fire be reduced and it is the duty
of every citizen to co-operate in
every effort being made to safe-

GREAT LOSS FROM FIRES

Fire Chief Munroe Urges Vic-
torians to Inspect Their Own Homes

Gives List of Fifteen "Don'ts"
For Prevention of Confla-
grations

Do not let Fire Prevention Week go
by without playing the role of fire inspector within your own home. This is the request of Fire Chief Alexander Munroe, who urges that the citizens of Victoria do their part from October 8
to 14, which is officially set aside as National Fire Prevention Week. Fire Chief Munroe pointed out that during the last year the total loss from fire
in Victoria was $57,283.54. The Fire Department received 437 fire alarms,
thirty-nine of these calls turned out
to be false alarms.

The following don'ts are emphasized
by Fire Chief Munroe as the best insurance against fire:

1. Clear all premises of the things
that cause fires, such as rubbish, trash
and papers piled in cellars, attics and closets.
2. Use metal cans for ashes. Instead of wooden containers, and never pile
ashes against wooden partitions.
3. Have chimneys, flues, stoves and furnaces cleaned and inspected before winter use.

4. Do not try amateur dry-cleaning
with such dangerously inflammable
liquids as gasoline, benzine or naphtha.
5. Learn the correct method of turning in a fire alarm, so that no time
need be lost in a sudden emergency.
6. Always disconnect any electrical appliances, such as toasters, electric irons and curling irons.

INSPECT WIRING

7. Insist on frequent inspection of the wiring of your buildings, to locate defects before they cause danger. Be sure that your radio equipment is properly installed. Do not experiment with fuses and wires yourself—call an expert.

8. If you smoke, be sure that all fire
is crushed out of cigar or cigarette
stubs when they are thrown away; and
do not smoke in bed.
9. Use fire screens in front of an open stove fire.

10. Never start fires in stoves with benzine, gasoline or kerosene.
11. Do not allow curtains or draperies to hang near flames, as a sudden
gust of wind might blow them in contact with the fire.

12. Keep all gas jets and other open flames sufficiently far away from the woodwork or other readily combustible
material.

KEEP MATCHES FROM CHILDREN

13. Be sure that matches are kept in a closed container which is inaccessible
to the investigating hands of young children. Always dispose of used matches properly, making certain that they are completely extinguished before they leave your hands.

14. Never lock small children in the house and leave them at home alone to
be helplessly burned in case of fire.
15. Remember that being a hero during a fire is very noble—but that it is even more admirable to keep your premises free from every type of fire
hazard, not only during Fire Prevention Week but throughout the year!

FIRE TAKES HUMAN TOLL

Not only does fire cause unestimable loss to property, but too often its toll includes human lives. Pictured above are two survivors of a recent fire in which more than fifty persons were believed burned to death while
a great number suffered injuries.

nothing revolutionary in the idea that
the individual should be responsible
to others for his acts of negligence,
yet in the application of the principle
to the subject of fire the idea seems revolutionary.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

"The responsibility of a man for loss to his neighbors lies not in any special enactment, but in the fact that every person is responsible and liable for any acts of his through which any person may sustain loss or damage property, injury or loss of life.
The correction of such people cannot
be achieved by any ordinary methods
of polite education. They must be held responsible for the acts of trespassing. A man who has a preventable fire picks the pockets of his neighbors, either through the medium
of fire insurance, or an unjustified
use of the public fire department,
which all must support.

"Fire departments are not maintained to protect a man from the results of his negligence; hence when he calls upon the city for any such

tional wires, in your home. Your best insurance against fire is to have such
wiring done properly with the right
material by experienced electricians.

"Wires must not be tacked to walls
or baseboards with staples. Connected extension cords hung on walls very often cause serious fires—since the weight of the cord after a time pressing the insulation away from the wires
causing a short circuit.

"Bare-shell sockets, in bath rooms
and on concrete floors in basements
often cause serious injury from electrical shocks.

"Do not move or handle electrical
appliances such as heaters, violet rays,
curling irons or washing machines
while your body is in contact with water piping or grounded metal.

"Always keep electrical heating devices away from combustible materials.
Provide an approved metal stand for
the iron and use it, whether the current is on or off.

"Do not leave small children in charge of portable heating devices that are in operation. They may turn them
over on your newspaper, curtains or

NION IDEA IS PRAISED

Our Tolmie Candidates Given Tentative Hearing at Oak Bay Meeting

Hon. J. Hinchliffe Pays Tribute to Leadership of Premier Tolmie

A gathering of 100 Oak Bay residents yesterday evening gave an attentive hearing to the four Conservative Unionist candidates at a public meeting in St. Mary's Hall. Those speaking were Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Col. H. T. Goodland, Brigadier Sutherland Brown and Fred Crowhurst. W. C. Winkel occupied the chair.

Colonel Goodland, the first speaker, the evening said he was not sure whether his sense of duty had not overcome his common sense when he accepted the nomination to run for election. But he was in the fight, and would stick with it to the last. He declared he had always been a Conservative, and could see no reason to change his colors except in an emergency.

"An emergency now exists," he said, "and that is why I am running as a Conservative Unionist."

He said twelve years of prosperity had preceded the five years of depression that had reigned during the Tolmie regime.

"I defy anyone to blame the government for this depression," Colonel Goodland said. "I consider the government has done valiantly in defying the stress of these five years. We got ourselves into this trouble and we have got ourselves out."

He referred to the party system in said in good times it did not matter, but in bad times the people rose up and demanded the best in all parties to join hands.

"I believe the electors realize now that this is the solution to our problem," Col. Goodland said, "and I believe they will vote for union on election day."

He said Premier Tolmie was honest and sincere in his endeavor to effect a union government when he spoke to be leader of the opposition more than a year ago, but was refused in not a very nice way.

"I believe the leader of the opposition is going to live to regret his thoroughly selfish action."

RED CROWHURST

"Dr. Tolmie is the strongest man to lead a no-party government in British Columbia," Mr. Crowhurst stated in his address.

"I stand to deliver the civil service from political interference," Mr. Crowhurst stated. "I congratulate the government on taking the Provincial Police out of politics and placing it under Colonel McMullen. Now, no amount of pull, or political interference will get a man into the force. I consider the force the finest of its kind in the world."

The speaker referred to the youth of the country, which, he said, must be recognized as a state responsibility. In his connection he would stand for no huge borrowings for which future generations would have to pay. Only in dire circumstances would he stand for any borrowing.

CIVIL SERVICE

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, who spoke for sixty-five minutes, recalled one of Dr. Tolmie's election promises in the campaign of 1928, which was that no civil servant would lose his or her job as long as he or she did the work properly and did not interfere outwardly in politics. Dr. Tolmie was the first Premier that ever put this promise into effect, Mr. Hinchliffe stated. If civil servants felt they would lose their positions at every change of government, there would never be a civil service worth while, Mr. Hinchliffe said.

"The biggest part of Dr. Tolmie's trouble has been because he wouldn't discharge Grits and put Conservatives in their places," Canon Hinchliffe said. "I don't think British Columbia is yet ready for a Premier like Dr. Tolmie. The people haven't yet grasped his bigness and the many sacrifices he has made for them and the province."

In 1920, the minister declared, one Liberal was elected, and already he has cost the province about $300,000. In a by-election on the mainland, an offer was received by the Premier, and Mr. Hinchliffe stated he believed the offer came through Mr. Pattullo, that the Liberals would not contest the election if the Tolmie Government would compromise the P.G.E. to Prince George.

The Premier's reply to this, Mr. Hinchliffe said, was "I'm not buying votes with railway ties."

The C.C.F. is making a determined effort to get hold of Canada, the minister declared. Now is the logical time to stop them, not after the election, he said. The greatest danger from this form of government would be felt in the schools, he stated.

"I'm not going to make any promises I have done my best and will continue to do so in future," Mr. Hinchliffe stated. "You don't have to believe my promises, because my record is there," he said, referring to the many years he has been in public life in the province.

He explained his action in cutting down the education grants to the municipalities and cities in the province that could best afford to do without them. He mentioned Oak Bay as one of the municipalities best able to do without government aid. Vancouver had done the most kicking, he stated, when the education grants had been reduced.

There is no use saying, he declared, that the poor man's son has the same chance for an education as the rich man's son. There should be a system of bursaries and scholarships to help along the bright child of the poorest man. The minister stated he was working out plans for this at the present time.

BRIGADIER BROWN

The idea that is abroad that Dr. Tolmie is not a leader was all "bunk," Brigadier Brown declared. In his position with the army, he said, he had had a great deal of business with the Premier, and always he had found him business-like. Most of the trouble had come from Conservatives, who, he thought, couldn't get jobs from the Premier because "sore."

"I think Premier Tolmie has been badly dealt with in this province," the brigadier stated. In the last two years the government has lowered its expenses, he declared.

He had been told, he said, that if the Liberals are elected a collection of men will dictate to Mr. Pattullo, their leader.

"Don't think that any collection is going to dictate to Dr. Tolmie," he

Under this direction of the stars it is wise to trust the intuition of wife or mother. Even sisters may have the right hunch.

This should be a happy wedding day, for it presages unity of purpose and financial ease through co-operative effort.

The rule brings new business to many lines of trade and especially to merchants who cater to the wants of women. Jewelers are to enjoy prosperity that will owe something to a novel mode. It is foretold.

While this direction of the stars continues there may be a return of safety to many who have been gravely contemplating life.

Amusements should profit. The planets favor theatres and preface for the stage a season in which something worth while is achieved. One or two dramas of lasting worth are foretold.

Speculation again will tempt many persons, but the stars seem to indicate that certain stocks that appear promising suddenly fall.

Large enterprises are to be pushed well toward stability before the end of the year. It is prognosticated.

Projects of public value will add greatly to the beauty of many American cities. If the signs are rightly read, but warning is given that there may be efforts to produce extremely modern architecture of transient interest.

Scorpio is seen as menacing the inhabitants of this planet Earth. Sensational fires and crimes of great violence are foretold.

NEW JAPANESE TRADE WATCHED

Cotton Contest With Britain Is Keen; Big Bombay Firm Fails

New York, Oct. 11.—Potentially more disturbing to world affairs than the forceful Japanese extension of its political power in North China is the vigorous extension of Japan's trade through the Far East, in the opinion of some Wall Street financial authorities.

Failure of the big textile firm of Currimbhoy, Ibrahim and Sons in Bombay yesterday was regarded as perhaps deeply significant, in view of the trade rivalry between Great Britain and Japan which has developed in the East as a result of Japanese inroads into the British cotton goods trade in India.

The Lancashire cotton textile trade, cradle of the cotton textile industry, saw Japanese exports of cotton goods surpass its own this year for the first time in history. Sale of Japanese goods in both British and Dutch territory in the Far East has become decidedly disturbing to both London and Amsterdam.

Some financial commentators see Japanese inroads into the trade of these powerful European commercial countries with their colonies as the beginning of a great commercial struggle between the Occident and the Orient, with their contrasting living standards and labor costs.

The Far Eastern trade war interests United States financial quarters for the moment chiefly on its threat to currency stabilization. The Japanese yen has already depreciated from its gold parity much more sharply than either the pound sterling or the U.S. dollar. Stabilization of the dollar on

An Approved Oil Burner In Your Kitchen Range Is Clean, Convenient, Economical and SAFE

The undermentioned firms take the advantage of Fire Prevention Week to point out the cleanliness, comfort and complete safety of modern domestic Oil Burners which have been approved by the National Research Council, a department operated for your protection by the Government at Ottawa.

Throughout the United States and Canada hundreds of thousands of women are turning to these modern Oil Burners as a means of escape from the drudgery and dirt of coal-burning ranges. Soot, dust and ashes are banished with the introduction of this modern fuel. They find it is clean, odorless, simple to operate and actually no more costly than other fuel. Any ordinary type of kitchen range can be quickly converted into an oil burner—and when the installation is made by one of the well-known firms mentioned below you can be perfectly sure that it is properly done and all regulations complied with.

The following is an extract from a letter from the Chief of the Fire Prevention Department of a large eastern Canadian city.

"Until now, a large number (of oil burners) have been installed in the city and seem to be very much appreciated by the public. I have one in my own home.

"As far as the danger is concerned, my personal opinion is as follows:

The danger of ashes is eliminated.

The installation has to be made by competent persons and proper instruction given at start. After a few days' use a person will handle it safely.

The storage of 50 or 100 gallons of oil in sheds, when in proper barrels, will not add greatly to risk, because it eliminates the greatest danger in sheds, which is HOT ASHES.

The idea of a breakage of the bottle seems quite negligible as it only amounts to a mess, but not to a fire, if it is at a safe distance from the heater.

In fact, I consider this method of heating an improvement so far as danger is concerned."

In about five minutes from the time the burners are ignited maximum heat is obtained. Oven temperatures are easily controlled and water is heated as with coal or wood. The heat is as easily controlled as gas . . . a turn of the valve gives the amount of heat required. No bother of adding fuel or waiting until combustion is at its height. You get more heat instantly. Turn it off and expense stops at once.

Above all, these modern Oil Burners are quite safe. There is no danger from overheated flues or pipes. No danger of explosion or asphyxiation in the event of a leak. An oil leak is not a source of danger, as the worst that can happen is that there will be an oil puddle to clean up. It is not dangerous and the odor is not unpleasant.

Telephone to any of the undermentioned firms and a representative will call and give full particulars of these modern oil burners.
